

The Ted Pearce Project

Bio- May 2008

Ted Pearce is a singer/songwriter/guitarist in a genre known as “messianic music”. The characteristics of this style are joyful praises and intimately worshipful melodies often accompanied by hebraic dance, banners, shofar blowing, clapping, and lots of singing! Ted’s songs are designed to bring people of diverse backgrounds together in the unity of the Holy Spirit as we worship the God of Israel with His Word as our common denominator.

Ted has been touring almost non-stop since the release of his first CD on Galilee of the Nations Records (Provident/Integrity). Since then, his discography includes:

- Ted Pearce Project “Zealous Over Zion” - Oct 2002
- Various Artists “Road to Jerusalem” – July 2005
- Lamb “The Sacrifice” – Oct 2005
- Various Artists “For Zion’s Sake I Will Not Be Silent” – April 2007
- Ted Pearce with Beersheva – “Hallelu Et Adonai” April 2008

His two oldest sons, Wes and Alex, joined him full-time in November 2007 and recorded new music for the “Hallelu Et Adonai” CD release in April ‘08. During the three years prior to joining their father in the Ted Pearce Project, Alex had been a drummer for the US Army in South Korea and his older brother, Wes, was playing guitar/singing with a youth worship team in the Dallas TX area. The trio informally jammed together for the first time at the 2007 MJAA South Central Conference in Oklahoma City and Ted's new band was born.

Since then they have toured completely across the nation twice; going from Florida to Washington, California to Rhode Island, and back again. They have recently returned from a month of touring across Europe and are committed to touring there later this year.

Since 2006, Ted's ministry focus has been to strengthen the Body of Messiah in Europe and to take a prophetic stance from there towards the dangerous tide of anti-semitism worldwide. In cooperation with one church in particular, Ted has released a powerful witness through his song and accompanying DVD of "The Forgotten People" with Pastor Jobst Bittner of TOS Ministries of Tuebingen Germany.

The CD "For Zion's Sake I Will Not Be Silent" features that song and includes the powerful music video in DVD form within the packaging. This project was officially released on Yom HaShoa (Holocaust Remembrance Day) in Munich Germany to celebrate the conclusion of an event called "The March of Life" where 350 German christians and American messianic jews prayerfully walked over 180 miles together along the paths of the death marches to Dachau.

This event continues as a second "March of Life" is scheduled to cover eastern Germany in August of 2008. (For more info please visit <http://marchoflife.org>)

In April 2008 came the international release of the latest Ted Pearce Project entitled "Hallelu Et Adonai" which is an expanded version of a previously unreleased project. This new version features Ted collaborating with the music team from TOS Ministries of Germany plus a few more songs feature backing vocals from The Liberated Wailing Wall. His 11-year old daughter, Charity, also sings with her father in an emotional tribute to Rose Price, holocaust survivor.

Future plans for the Ted Pearce Project include a partnership with MJB I to serve in planting schools internationally and training leaders from within the messianic movement and also to continue serving to inform our brethren in the church of the sensitivities of the jewish community.

"The Ted Pearce Project is excited about our association with MJB I (Messianic Jewish Bible Institute) as they impact the world through educating a new generation of leaders whom the Lord is raising from within the messianic jewish community worldwide!" - Ted Pearce
